PRINCE ALBERT, SEPT. 15, 1893.

CATTLE TRADE.

This country is particularly adapted for mixed farming, so that cattle raising may be considered one of its principal industries. Although the price of cattle has been much lower than usual there is hope that in the near future there will be a better demand for good beef cattle and therefore better prices, as will be seen from the following:

For some weeks the cattle trade of this country, as well as that of the west, has been in a very low condition, although the supply has not been excessive. The large extent this is due to the state of affairs in Europe. Especially in France and England the summer drought, which terminated only a short time ago, has scorched the pasture lands, and ruined the hay crop, until there is nothing left to feed the animals. Imported meat is selling at so high a figure that farmers cannot afford to purchase for their cattle, and the result is that thousands of head of stock are being marketed from the slaughterhouses. This has so glutted the market for the present that prices there are a low down.

We hear of cattle in France being sold at one-fourth the price that is usually paid. Some farmers are caring their grain crops for feed to supply the present emergency, knowing that a reaction must take place before many months. Some of the neighboring countries the have not suffered from the drought and are purchasing and shipping to their own great numbers, which will be returned to with a handsome profit when the demand returns.

Knowing these facts we need not be alarmed about our present low price. Although our export cattle have been much better than the native stock that has been rushed on the market, we have to compete with them, more or less, as an over-supply of poor meat materially lessens the demand for the better quality.

Our hope is in the future demand, which must come as soon as the present surplus is exhausted. The people must have meat, and foreign countries must be depended on to supply it, therefore our farmers should see to it that they are in a position to supply the demand when it comes, as it certainly will. British markets want the best quality that can be supplied, and will pay good prices for the article that fits the bill.—Farmer's Advocate.

C. P. R. RATES.

One of the most important considerations in the production of wheat is the cost of transportation. The C. P. R. is so great to meet the necessities of this great wheat growing country, has made some reductions in the carriage of wheat eastward to Lake Superior, and when the price for that cereal is low as it is at present, the cost of carriage makes considerable difference in the profit derived by the farmer. The conditions, however, are small as may be seen by the following table:

From	1893	1892
Winnipeg	17	21
Portage la Prairie	18	21
Brandon	19	22
Virden	21	25
Moosomin	21	27
Qu'Appelle	22	29
Moore Jaw	25	29
Medicine Hat	27	30
Calgary	29	30

These rates are for 100 pounds. Upon a bushel the reduction would be as follows:

From	Cents
Winnipeg	2.4
Portage la Prairie	1.8
Brandon	1.8
Virden	2.4
Moosomin	2.6
Qu'Appelle	4.2
Moore Jaw	2.4
Calgary	.6

Miss Gould, the only daughter and heiress of the late New York millionaire, is being much discussed by society papers just now. She is certainly the greatest "catch" of the day, possessing a cool $15,000,000 well invested, and, according to a recent enthusiastic writer, is charming in disposition and manner, very young and extremely charitable. And then she goes on with a description which seems to indicate some study of the subject: "She is a brunette, but not a very pronounced one. Her hair is dark, but not of theinky blackness that marked her father's hair and beard, and her eyes are of the iridescent shade that is neither dark or brown, but that seems to change and alternate."

her hair and beard, and her eyes are of the iridescent shade that is neither dark or brown, but that seems to change and alternate."

The objection for the city of Brandon to fill the vacancy caused by the unseating of Mr. W. A. Macdonald, leader of the Opposition in the Manitoba Legislature took place on Friday last and resulted in the election of Mr. Chas. Adams, ex-Mayor of Brandon over Mr. Macdonald, the unseated member by a majority of 21. At the last general election for Manitoba, Mr. Macdonald defeated the Hon. Mr. Smart, Minister of Public Works by a majority of 12. Mr. Macdonald's defeat is much to be regretted as he was a useful and valuable member and his defeat will very much weaken the Opposition.

We have great pleasure in congratulating the Minister of Marine and Fisheries upon the honor so deservedly conferred upon him by his Sovereign. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, who attains this distinction at an early stage in his career, has worthily won it, as all will admit. His services as British agent in the Behn Meier Arbitration amply entitle him to the recognition, and the unswerving zeal and ability which he bestowed upon the preparation of the case to go before the court redound to his credit in the highest degree.

It is so often that we hear of the ill-lot inhabitant bearing the joys and sorrows of life secure and ten, but Mr. Elizabeth McNair, who has just died near Huntington, Quebec, lived a long and enjoyable life, it is reported, her "part in and shorter childhood" to this. In two months Mrs. McNair would have been one hundred and seven years of age.

Delegates from Berlin are seeking Resiprocity from the United States and are now in Washington. The only encouragement they have so far had is the statement of The New York Sun and some other papers that they are welcome to Resiprocity—when Germany gives the Stars and Stripes.

The Farmer's Advocate publishes a London, Ont., and Winnipeg, Minn. is one of the best agricultural journals in Canada, and should be in the hands of every live farmer. The last number is replete with information that every farmer should know. It is published monthly, and costs only $1 a year.

An able description of the Canadian exhibits at Chicago, appears in a recent issue of The Chicago Inter-Ocean. It seems evident that the Dominion Press Commission at the World's Fair, Mr. William Smith, is doing his best to keep the resources of Canada before the American.

It is pleasant to notice that while figures of crime are increasing in most countries, they remain almost stationary in Canada. For 1891 the convictions numbered 3,964, or a ratio of 8.21 per 1000 inhabitants. Last year the number was 4,050 or 8.24 per 1,000 of the population.

For sometime he has been connected with the Indian Department at Regina and has proved himself a thorough and efficient officer, as will be seen by the following:

Mr. J. J. Campbell, of the Indian Department, started for British Columbia, on Monday last on official business. It is understood that shortly after his return he will be transferred to the inside service of the Department at Ottawa.
